Purpose of the Study: The aim of this study is to understand how individuals make decisions regarding traffic incidents. This research seeks to contribute to improved traffic management and safety by gaining scientific insights into human decision-making in stressful scenarios.

Study Procedures: As a participant, you will be presented with several hypothetical traffic scenarios. You will be asked to decide between different outcomes in each scenario.

Duration: The study consists of one session lasting approximately 15minutes.

Benefits: While there are no direct benefits to you as a participant, your contribution will aid in the development of safer and more efficient traffic systems.

Risks or discomfort: Participation involves no foreseeable risks or discomfort beyond the decision-making process itself.

Use of Personal Data: Your personal data will be collected and processed solely for research purposes.

Recipients of Data: Your data will be handled with strict confidentiality.

1. Pseudonymized research data may be shared publicly via academic data repositories for transparency and reproducibility.
2. Raw research data will only be accessible to the research team.

3. Personal data collected for administrative purposes will not be shared with any third parties.

Your Rights: As a participant, you have the following rights:

1. Access, rectify, or erase your personal data.
2. Restrict or object to data processing.
3. Withdraw consent for processing personal data at any time.
4. Request disposal of personal data (including research data) up to one month after participation.
5. Lodge a complaint with the Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens (Dutch DPA).

Insurance: This study is covered under the general liability insurance policy of Radboud University.

I declare that:

1. I have read and understood the information document and had the opportunity to ask questions.
2. I understand that my participation is voluntary and that I can withdraw at any time without providing a reason.
3. I consent to the use of my personal data for the purposes described in the information document.
4. I am aware of my rights regarding data processing, including the right to withdraw consent and request data disposal up to one month after participation.
5. I consent to the sharing of pseudonymized data for academic purposes.
